

WESTERLY MAN FOUND DEAD

Angus Barber, Walking on Bridge, Struck by Train—Signal Wires Keep Bo / From Falling Into River—Lodge of Moose Instituted—Bother Caused by Trolley Car Off the Iron—Election Time For the Lodges.

On Sunday morning car No. 26, of the Groton and Stonington road, due to arrive in Westerly from Groton at 8:15, left the rails at the Mechanic street curve near the plant of the C. B. Cottrell and Sons company. Just as the car left the grooved rail in the curve the axle of the forward pair of wheels in the truck broke. The car, however, did not fall into the river, but the car kept bounding along for a distance of nearly thirty feet, when it veered to the right and the forward wheels smashed against the curbing directly in front of the house now occupied by the White family, in which it was the old home of the Cottrell family. The car passed between a telephone pole and a large tree, grazing the tree by its side and catching the guy wire of the pole, snapped the pole in two, so that the pole leaned against the car when the car came to a standstill. The ladder had struck the ornamental iron fence and smashed about fifteen feet of it. The car was headed almost directly for the front door of the house and came within six feet of entry.

The breaking of the axle and the crash was all done within half a minute. When Conductor Everett Barber made out on board of the car that none of the passengers were even slightly injured and that not a pane of glass in the car was broken, he made an examination of the car and found that both he and the motorman had escaped injury. Another peculiar feature of the accident was that, although the forward end of the car was across the narrow sidewalk with its nose against the fence, the rear truck of the car was on the rails, due to the pivotal action of the truck.

Just ahead of car No. 26 was the express car and on board of that car was Thomas W. Riley, superintendent of passenger and freight and until recently superintendent of the Groton and Stonington road. As soon as he made an examination, he went with the express car to Westerly headquarters and reported the accident to Stephen Kehoe, the new superintendent of railway and equipment of the united companies. In short order the work crew arrived from Mystic and under direction of Superintendent Kehoe, assisted by Superintendent Riley, the damaged car was hauled back onto the rails and taken to the Mystic car shop. The accident caused a delay to two of the regularly scheduled trips.

The carrying away of the pole disarranged the electric light and telephone system and workmen made prompt temporary repairs in remarkably short order. The car was being moved before the car had been moved. The accident attracted a large number of people to Mechanic street. Among the first arrivals were a couple of enterprising camera men and pictures of the wreck were on sale in the afternoon.

Colonel Tillinghast, commanding the first artillery district, has issued orders requiring all units and companies of the district who were warranted previous to the last encampment to be accompanied by a member of the district's staff, stipulating that failure to appear for the examination will be considered reason sufficient for the revocation of the warrant. The examining board named are Major Nash, and

Use less Butter—More Cottolene

No wonder butter is so high. Particular women who are loath to use lard or cooking butter in their cakes and fine pastry, use table butter. With butter at the price you have to pay for it, that's downright extravagance. Cottolene is just as good as butter for pastry, for frying, it is better. And Cottolene costs no more than lard. Moreover, Cottolene is richer, and two-thirds of a pound of it will go as far as a pound of butter or lard.

And lard and Cottolene are not to be mentioned in the same breath, for Cottolene is a vegetable product, healthful, always safe—makes digestible, rich, but never greasy food.

Postmaster Charles J. Butler announces that mail matter having Red Cross Christmas seals on its face will not be sent to the dead letter office, as has been the rule, but will be forwarded without delay to the persons to whom it is addressed. The new arrangement is made by order issued by the postmaster general, which suspends, until January first, the rule which prevented forwarding of mail matter bearing adhesive stamps on the face other than regulation postage stamps.

The postmaster has also received an order in regard to the handling of mail matter addressed to Santa Claus. All such mail that is presented to him, delivered to any responsible institution or individual, who desires to use it for purely philanthropic purposes in the town where the mail is addressed. If there is more than one application for such mail, the postmaster may direct it as he sees fit. All mail matter that is not fully prepaid will be forwarded to the dead letter office, together with the address of any institution or individual who may wish to use it. The sale of Red Cross Christmas seals in Westerly is progressing satisfactorily and the fine record of sales of a year ago is likely to be surpassed.

Angus Barber was found dead on the railroad bridge over the Pawcatuck river, Saturday afternoon. He was on a search for him. Mr. Barber in spite of the warnings of his son and daughter, persisted in the custom of crossing the bridge and walking the track from Westerly to the Pawcatuck. As he did not return home at the accustomed time, the son, with lantern, went in search of him. In crossing the bridge the son discovered the body of his father lying outside the tracks, the body being held from falling into the water by the signal wires.

The body was found at about 8:40 just off the west bound track and was struck by the train leaving Westerly for New London at 7:30 or by a freight train that followed and both the passage of the boat train, for just prior to the arrival of the latter train the railroad improvements, his chief work, were being worked with difficulty. When Policeman Ferguson and Dr. Morgan went to the body it was cold and rigid.

Mr. Barber had been dead two hours at least. He was evidently struck by the step of a locomotive on the left side of the head as that was the only wound and a piece of the step was found on the bridge a short distance from the body. It is thought that Mr. Barber saw the train coming and was in a crouched position on the outer edge of the bridge when struck and was thrown over on the signal wires.

Mr. Barber was employed for years as a stone turner for the New England granite works. He was working for a time in the Welch stable, part of the time as foreman, but of late was employed by the contracting firm of Ryan and Keen in connection with the railroad improvements, his chief work being the making of frames for concrete work.

Mr. Barber was 55 years of age and leave his widow, a son, Jesse, and a daughter, Mrs. Walter Whyte of Mystic.

Norman S. Taber of Brown university, who won international distinction by being Kiviat for second position in the long distance race in the Olympic games at Sweden, last summer, has been awarded the Rhodes scholarship from Rhode Island. He will be joined by his brother, Howard A. Taber, who will begin his studies under the scholarship at Oxford next October. Norman Taber is a member of the senior class at Brown and will be graduated next June. The other Rhode Island student who holds a Rhodes scholarship is Warren C. Johnson, who is in his second year of study in England.

Mr. Taber took the competitive examination for the scholarship a year ago and his selection was made by the following, who constitute the Rhodes committee: Rhode Island—Willard H. Bacon, principal of the Westerly high school, Dr. John S. French of Morris Heights school, Dr. Seth K. Gifford of Moses Brown school, and Prof. Walter G. Everett, W. C. Langdon.

Miss Clara E. Craig, supervisor of the observation and training schools in Rhode Island, will leave for Rome to matriculate in the school under the supervision of Mme. Montessori to make an exhaustive study of the system. Miss Craig has been appointed by the state board of education to represent the state in its investigation of this new method of child culture.

These officers were elected at the annual meeting of Hope Lodge, No. 19, Daughters of Rebekah: Miss Resa Woodburn, noble grand; Mrs. Clara Macomber, vice grand; Archie C. Thompson, recording secretary; J. Attmore Steadman, financial secretary; Mrs. Mary Richmond, treasurer; Mrs. Ella J. Ingham, Mrs. Catherine C. Bradford, Mrs. Ella Wilcox, trustees.

Officers of Narragansett lodge, No. 7, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, were elected as follows at the annual
